

Furlough Questions and Answers

The answers to these questions generally apply to a situation where the Agency implements a furlough due to a temporary lapse in appropriations. These questions and answers augment those provided in the Office of Personnel Management's (OPM) Guidance and Information on Furloughs, which can be found at:

<http://www.opm.gov/furlough/furlough.asp>

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

1. What is a furlough?

Although not often used by agencies, furlough is a measure managers often discuss as a remedy or budget shortfalls, emergencies, or lack of work. Rather than permanently separating employees from an agency workforce, this personnel action places employees in temporary non-duty and nonpay status.

2. Under what authority is a furlough taken?

There are three legal authorities under which a furlough can be taken. Furloughs of 30 calendar days or less are covered under adverse action procedures found in Subpart D of 5 CFR 752. Furloughs of more than 30 calendar days are covered under reduction in force procedures found in Subpart B of 5 CFR 351. Furloughs for Senior Executive Service (SES) members are covered Subpart H of 5 CFR Part 359. Furloughs may also be taken because of a sudden emergency requiring curtailment of the agency's activities; therefore, no advance notification is possible. The customary 30-day advance notice period and opportunity to answer are suspended under the provisions of 5 CFR 752.404 (d) (2) and in accordance with 5 CFR 359.806 (a) for SES Career appointees.

3. What happens to time limited appointments that expired during a furlough?

Furloughs do not extend the time limits for temporary (5 CFR 316.401(c)) and term (5 CFR 316.301(a)) appointments. If you intend to extend the time limited appointment, it may be extended prior to the furlough or, the individual may be reappointed after the furlough in accordance with 5 CFR 316.401(c) or 5 CFR 316.302(b) (7).

4. How come some employees continue working when the agency implements a furlough.

Under guidance provided the Office of Management and Budget and the Office of Personnel Management, when an agency implements a furlough due to a temporary lapse in appropriations an agency may be required to maintain some level of operations in order to carry out activities required by law and activities to protect safety of human life or protection of property. These essential activities are referred to as excepted activities and require personnel to carry out the business of the agency.

5. Will I receive advance written notice of a furlough?

Not necessarily. While an employee must ultimately receive a written notice about a furlough, it is not required that a notice be given before the furlough starts. OPM does say prior written notice is "preferable," but when it is not possible, then a reasonable notice - such a phone call or verbal communications - is allowed.

6. Who is excepted from a furlough?

"Excepted employees" refers to employees who are excepted from a furlough by law because they are (1) performing emergency work involving the safety of human life or the protection of property, (2) involved in the orderly suspension of agency operations, or (3) performing other functions exempted from the furlough.

The term "emergency employee" is used to designate those employees who must report for work in emergency situations, such as severe weather conditions, air pollution, power failures, interruption of public transportation, and other situations in which significant numbers of employees are prevented from reporting for work or which require agencies to close all or part of their activities.

7. Can I take another job while furloughed?

Even while on furlough, you are still a government employee and must still abide by outside employment rules. According to the "code of ethics" an employee shall not engage in outside employment or any other outside activity that conflicts with his official duties."

8. Are Presidential appointees subject to a furlough?

Appointees are NOT subject to furlough. The salary of a Presidential appointee is an obligation incurred by the year, without consideration of hours of duty required. If a Presidential appointee, however, chooses to be in a nonpay status, he may return part of his salary to his employing agency, provided that the agency has authority to accept gifts, or to the Treasury.

There is an exception - Former career Senior Executive Service appointees who took appointments at level V of the Executive Schedule or higher and elected to retain SES leave benefits under 5 U.S.C. 3392(c), are subject to furlough at the discretion of the agency.

Senate confirmed appointees, certain IPA assignments, and employees on reimbursable details to other agencies are excluded from furlough action.

9. If I am on a detail or assigned outside my agency, am I subject to a furlough?

Employees on a reimbursable detail from the agency would not be subject to furlough due to lack of funds if full reimbursement continued. If reimbursement were reduced or eliminated, the employee would be subject to furlough. Agencies may prorate the required furlough time for employees being paid by the outside organization during only part of the furlough period. Federal employees assigned to non-federal organizations who are on leave without pay from their federal positions may continue working.

LEAVE

10. If an employee who received a furlough notice had previously scheduled annual or sick leave, what happens to the scheduled leave?

Upon furlough, all scheduled leave is canceled (annual leave, sick leave, or other). Absences during the furlough may not be charged to leave. The Antideficiency Act (31 U.S.C. 1341 et seq.) does not allow authorization of any expenditure or obligation before an appropriation is made, unless authorized by law. Paid leave creates a debt to the government that is not authorized by the Act. Therefore, agencies are instructed that during a lapse in appropriations, all paid leave during a furlough must be canceled and employees must be either (1) at work performing excepted activities or (2) furloughed.

11. May employees who were designated as excepted* from the furlough be granted paid leave?

No. If an excepted employee is unavailable to be at work and perform the duties determined by the employing agency to be allowable activities the employee must be furloughed. An agency may subsequently terminate the furlough if the employee's services are still required for excepted activities following the absence.

[- The term "excepted employee" refers to employees who are excepted from a furlough by law because they are (a) performing emergency work involving the safety of human life or the protection of property, (b) involved in the orderly suspension of agency operations, or (3) performing other functions exempted from the furlough. Excepted employee is a separate category and should not be confused with "emergency employee", which is a designation for those employees who must report for work in emergency situations such as severe weather conditions, power failures, interruption of public transportation, and other situations in which a significant number of employees are prevented from reporting to work.]*

12. If an employee who would be furloughed is on approved leave without pay (LWOP) must the LWOP be terminated and the employee furloughed?

No. The status of employees in LWOP is not disturbed unless there is indication that the employee may return from the LWOP during the furlough.

13. Can an employee be authorized paid leave - i.e., annual, sick, court, military leave - after receiving a furlough notice, can the requests be denied for those days that coincide with the dates of furlough?

No leave is authorized and in a shutdown, all paid leave during a furlough is canceled because the necessity to furlough supersedes leave rights.

PAY

14. Will I receive back pay for the period of time I am subject to a furlough ?

It's not guaranteed. Congress would have to pass legislation granting federal employees the pay they missed while they were furloughed. This is what has happened in the past.

15. Can I volunteer to work unpaid during a furlough?

No. Unless otherwise authorized by law, an agency may not accept the voluntary services of an individual.

16. Are contractors located on site also required to not report to work? Or are they allowed to continue their tasks, albeit, without government oversight or monitoring?

Contractors should not "volunteer" their services to an agency during a shutdown if they want to be paid for those services. If, for example, an agency were to suggest to a contractor that they continue working during a shutdown and "we'll figure out how to pay you later," the contractor is at risk of not being able to recover compensation for those services. Agencies may not displace the services of furloughed federal workers by using "volunteer" contractors.

Contractors should also keep in mind that they may not be able to access their work sites if there are no federal employees present to open the building. These are generalities, and details will vary by agency and contract. The best rule of thumb is to discuss these issues with the appropriate agency contracting officer if a shutdown appears to be imminent.

17. How an employee is treated who performs National Guard or Reserve duty while furloughed? Is it a dual compensation situation?

It is not a dual compensation situation because furloughed employees are not in a pay status. They will be compensated by the military and continued to be carried in a LWOP-US status.

BENEFITS

Federal Employees Health Benefits (FEHB)

18. To what extent does non-pay status affect Federal Employee Health Benefits (FEHB) coverage?

Yes, the employee's FEHB coverage will continue even if an agency does not make the premium payments on time. Since the employee will be in a non-pay status, the enrollee share of the FEHB premium will accumulate and be withheld from pay upon return to pay status.

19. What happens if I choose to cancel my Federal Employee Health Benefits coverage while in a non-pay status in order to avoid the expense?

Employees do not have the opportunity to cancel or terminate FEHB status during a lapse of appropriations.

20. Will an employee continue to be covered under the FEHB program if the agency is unable to make its premium payments on time?

Yes, the employee's FEHB coverage will continue even if an agency does not make the premium payments on time.

Federal Employees Group Life Insurance (FEGLI)

21. To what extent does non-pay status affect Federal Employees Group Live Insurance coverage?

Life insurance coverage continues for 12 consecutive months while in a non-pay status without cost to the employee or the agency.

Thrift Savings Plan (TSP)

22. To what extent does non-pay status affect Thrift Savings Plan (TSP) coverage?

Deductions will cease for periods of non-pay status where there is insufficient funds to cover the Thrift Savings Plan (TSP) premium(s). Employees cannot contribute to their TSP account while on furlough. Employees should refer to the TSP Fact Sheet – Effect of Non-pay Status on TSP Participation. The fact sheet can be found at <http://www.tsp.gov/forms/oc95-4w.pdf>.

23. Can I obtain a loan from my TSP account while in a non-pay status?

Yes. A TSP participant may take a TSP loan any time including when in non-pay status. The first payment is due on or before the 60th day following the loan issue date.

A short-term break in pay status would still allow participants to commence payment by payroll deduction within the required 60 days of the loan issue date. If a shutdown were to extend beyond 60 days, participants would still be responsible for making loan payments (see next question). <https://www.tsp.gov/PDF/formspubs/oc11-5.pdf>

Flexible Spending Account (FSA)

24. To what extent does non-pay status affect Flexible Spending Account (FSA) coverage?

Incurred eligible health care expenses will not be reimbursed until the employee returns to a pay status and the allotments are successfully restarted (in which case the remaining allotments would be recalculated over the remaining pay periods to match the employee's annual election amount). Eligible dependent care expenses incurred during the nonpay status may be reimbursed up to whatever balance is in the employee's dependent care account, as long as the expenses incurred during the nonpay status allow the employee (or employee's spouse if married) to work, look for work, or attend school full-time. Once dependent care allotments are successfully restarted, remaining allotments would be recalculated over the remaining pay periods to match the employee's annual election amount.

Long Term Care (LTC)

25. To what extent does non-pay status affect Long Term Care (LTC) coverage?

Deductions cease when in the employee is placed in a non-pay status and there are insufficient funds to cover the premium(s). In order for employees to continue Long Term Care (LTC) coverage, the employee must make payments while in a non-pay status. Visit the LTC website, <https://www.ltcfeds.com/documents> for more information.

Federal Employees Dental and Vision Insurance Plan (FEDVIP)

26. To what extent does non-pay status affect Federal Employees Dental and Vision Insurance Plan (FEDVIP) coverage?

FEDVIP coverage continues immediately follow non-pay status. After two pay periods of not receiving premiums form enrollee paychecks, FEDVIP will directly bill enrollees.

Retirement Coverage

27. To what extent does non-pay status affect retirement coverage?

Retirement coverage continues for up to 6 months for periods of where federal employees are normally in a non-pay status per calendar year.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

28. If I am furloughed am I eligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits. Is the UC claim based on the state where you live, or where you work?

UC claims are based on the state in which the work was performed (this does not include overseas employees).

29. Are Human Resources Offices required to provide furloughed Federal employees with an SF-8, Notice to Federal Employee about Unemployment Compensation Insurance? (UC)

Federal agencies are required to provide employees with an SF-8 if they will be in a non-duty status for seven or more days. State unemployment compensation requirements differ. Employees should submit their questions to the appropriate State office.

30. Is information available as to what the states require before processing a claim for unemployment because of a furlough?

Yes. The list below gives Web sites or instructions for each state when filing an initial claim for unemployment; different procedures often apply when filing claims for additional benefits.

31. I heard that employees who are lower than a Grade 9 Step 5 would not be required to pay back UC benefits if they are later paid for the furlough period. Is this correct?

No. The decision on whether or not employees would have to pay back UC benefits would be decided by each SESA based on their UC law. Overpayment requirements apply to all employees for a particular state, regardless of their grade or salary.

32. Can excepted employees file a UC claim, since they are not getting paid?

No. Excepted employees cannot file a UC claim, since they are not unemployed. In addition, in order to receive UC benefits, you must be able and available to accept work. Excepted employees would not meet this requirement since they are already working.

INJURY COMPENSATION

33. If an employee was in receipt of Federal Employee Compensation Act (FECA) wage-loss compensation and was then furloughed, what effect would the furlough have on his/her compensation?

None. FECA wage-loss compensation is not considered wages and, therefore, is not affected by a lack of funding at the employing agency.

34. If an employee sustains a traumatic injury at work and begins to receive Continuation Of Pay (COP) what happens to the COP when he is furloughed?

When employees are furloughed due to a lapse in appropriations, there is no legal authority to pay COP or any similar payment. However, lapsed appropriations do not abrogate the employee's entitlement to COP in any way. Therefore, although COP may be suspended during a furlough caused by lapsed appropriations, retroactive payment is mandatory once funding has been appropriated. Once the furlough begins, COP is placed in abeyance pending the resumption of funding. When funding is available any remaining COP entitlement must be paid on a retroactive basis. The Department of Labor recognizes that they cannot force an agency to make payments of salary to furloughed employees when the agency has no funds to legally do so. If Congress does not decide to pay furloughed employees for the days off, COP would still have to be paid retroactively in accordance with 5 U.S.C.8118.

EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

35. What information should be included in the notice of decision when no advance notice is issued?

The notice must specify the reason for the furlough and state that the usual 30 calendar days advance notice was not possible due to the emergency requiring curtailment of agency operations. There are other reasons an employee may not be furloughed. The notice must include a statement of applicable appeal and grievance rights. You are reminded that adverse action coverage for excepted service employees was substantially expanded by the Civil Service Due Process Amendments of 1990 (P.L. 101-376). If a copy of the Merit Systems Protection Board appeal form is not attached to the decision notice, the link and information about appeals is notice should include information on how to obtain a copy of the form.

36. What appeal rights do I have if I am furloughed?

A furloughed employee may appeal the furlough to the Merit Systems Protection Board or under a negotiated grievance procedure (NGP) if applicable , but not both.
